In the ever-depressing world of rising prices and fuel costs, here we have a ray of light!

Yes, if the thought of virtually zero heating costs appeals to you then read on, for this EPC 'A' rated extended detached bungalow has hit the sweet spot.

The current owner installed solar panels and still receives the privilege of the Government incentive/payback until 2035, by feeding electricity back into the grid. Not only that, the installation of air pumps and (on the rare occasion that you will ever need it) a biomass wood pellet boiler have also been installed, combined with a heat recovery system means that an ambient temperature can be maintained all year round. Battery storage units have also been installed to store the energy from the solar roof panels during the day - clever stuff indeed!

The property itself has the benefit of a kitchen extension (fitted with solid granite worktops) and a generous conservatory addition. All three bedrooms may safely be described as 'doubles' and outside, there is enough room to park a small fleet of vehicles whilst electric timber gates to the side of the bungalow provide secure parking for a caravan/trailer/motorhome away from the driveway.

Not only that, there is also a detached double garage and the fact that it occupies a wide plot and is separated from the road by a long driveway, whilst backing onto farmland, means that you can enjoy a high degree of privacy should you decide to live here!

Higher Heath is well placed for travel throughout a wide geographical area due to ease of access to the A41 bypass which provides relatively swift access to Whitchurch, Shrewsbury, Wolverhampton, Wrexham and Chester.

The nearby town of Whitchurch offers a wide variety of shopping, restaurants, pubs, doctors surgery, dentists, sporting amenities, schools, cottage hospital and a railway station.
