

70 Fairacres, Prestwood, Buckinghamshire, HP16 0LF

An immaculate and comprehensively updated modernised three-bedroom, mid-terraced, house in the heart of Prestwood village convenient for the local schools and shops. The property benefits from an enclosed garden and a garage in an adjacent block.

Entrance porch | Sitting room | Kitchen diner | Three bedrooms | Family bathroom | Garage

The property is quietly located on a well-regarded street on the popular Lodge Lane development. Unusually, there are only houses on one side of the street thus affording greater privacy.

Entry into the house is through an enclosed porch with storage for coats and shoes and from here into a large, square, front sitting room which has been fitted with pale oak flooring that continues through into the kitchen. The kitchen is separated from the living room by the staircase. Originally a separate kitchen and dining room, the current owners have knocked the two together to form one generous, cohesive, space with a food preparation zone and an eating/recreation area linked to the garden with a run of bi-fold doors and there is an area of decking immediately outside the doors. The kitchen has been refitted with a fresh, light range of pale grey units with the usual integrated appliances. Additional useful storage can be found in the understairs cupboard, where there is also a washing machine and tumble dryer, in the corner of the room.

Upstairs the transformation continues into the three bedrooms. Bedroom one is front aspect and has been fitted with light oak floor, bedroom 2 is rear aspect and bedroom three again being front facing. The family bathroom has been refitted with a white suite comprising of bath, with thermostatic shower over, vanity unit and back-to-the-wall W.C. The clean, fresh bathroom has tiled walls.

Outside, the back gardens are level and laid mainly to lawn with a side gate leading to the garage block. To the front the property is approached along a path that bisects two lawns.
